

IS THIS SUITABLE FOR ME?

The target market for our CFDs include the following classes of Consumers:

You need to satisfy each of the following criteria:

- You need to be at least 18yo
- You should have the requisite knowledge for the purposes of trading in CFDs;
- You should be able to accept losses that can be as great as the sum of your deposits;
- You should have a high investment risk appetite;
- You should have a short-term investment horizon
- You should have basic computer literacy skills (be able to copy and paste)

For those Consumers who satisfy the above criteria

If you satisfy the above criteria and wish to trade CFDs for investment purposes, including for one or more of the following purposes:

- Speculative trading;
- Hedging (including hedging exposure to underlying assets and hedging positions taken in relation to other CFDs); and
- Gaining exposure to price movements of the underlying assets (e.g. cryptoassets, FX, shares, indices, and commodities); including where exposure to such underlying assets may not be otherwise as readily available, or where such exposure is required at short notice.
